Specifying What 'The Faculty' Means Is Crucial

Articulating the 'Why' for Each Audience is an Important First Step

"Engagement" is ambiguous.

Often, engagement is used to mean utilization rather than discourse.

"The Faculty" is vague.

Target groups of faculty who have the most to gain by utilizing the platform.

“ We need to engage the faculty this year.”

“ We need the faculty to use the platform this year.”

“ We need the deans in the College of Science to use Institution Reports this year, as they are redesigning several majors.”

Customizing Rollout Strategy

Weighing the Pros and Cons of Scaling by User Base vs. Functionality

Considerations

- Best strategy is based on your goals—fast adoption, standardization, certain functionality, etc.
- Consider what your system of record will be during rollout
- Rolling out by functionality helps users with training
- Variations of these 2 options exist based on your goals

Looking Ahead

Plan for Initial Adoption & Follow-Up

Rollout of Navigate to Faculty Is an Ongoing Process

Develop Particular Student Success Goals

When possible, involve faculty in larger conversations about Student Success goals. Technology is a tool to support these initiatives.

Engage Faculty Directly & Consistently

Leverage personal and professional relationships to communicate why Navigate is vital to supporting Student Success.

Provide Training & Instill Accountability

Send nudge emails from Leadership to provide just-in-time resources and transparency into the use of information provided by faculty.

Rinse and Repeat: Provide ongoing open communication with faculty, making utilization of the technology the norm.

Training Strategy Approaches

Active Training

Platform Walk-Through:

Conduct formal walk-throughs of Navigate. Ask advisors to attend, follow along, and ask questions.

Office Hours: Host informal times when advisors can come into a dedicated space to help one another and ask questions.

Note: Plan these training sessions ahead of time to establish a regular cadence; ensure you are targeting multiple audiences and platform components.

Self-service Training

Resources in Help Center:

EAB provides training guides that we recommend you pare down and/or customize to share with advisors. Ensure that these documents are digestible and easily accessible.

Microsites: Institutional microsites are a great place to announce platform updates and store frequently-asked-questions

Note: Ask your consultant for EAB member examples!

Proactive Training

Onboarding/Hiring

Training: Ensure that new advisors are acclimated to Navigate as soon as they join your institution.

Persistent Training: Use advisor retreats, all-hands meetings, or roundtable discussions to share key functionality and success stories within Navigate.

Note: Champion superusers to share wins by highlighting & rewarding their wins at existing meetings. Consider how Navigate can be part of ongoing conversations to better advising at your institution.

Your Professor Home Page

The primary landing page for faculty – which may include prof assistants, teaching assistants, lab assistants, etc., upon login

The Professor Home page is where most faculty users arrive when opening Navigate, the key tools that enable them to take action on student success-related tasks, such as reports, recording class attendance, lab assignments, etc., upon logging in.

Progress Reports

If you have been asked to participate in a campaign, you will usually receive email requests to submit feedback on students in your courses. However, you will also be able to fill out Progress Reports directly from the links at the top of the Professor Home page. Clicking on "Fill Out Progress Reports" will direct you to the feedback form.

My Assigned Students

The My Assigned Students grid gives you an overview of the students assigned to you in your SES for the current term. In addition to the student name, you can also see any applicable category information.

Student Success Collaborative

Learning More About Your Students

Helping faculty learn more about a student to better inform one-on-one interactions is one of the core tenants of Navigate.

As you prepare for an interaction with a student, whether in anticipation of sending out an Appointment Campaign or before a scheduled appointment, the Student Profile aggregates all pertinent information about that student into one place.

Key Features

- Within the Overview Tab, the "30-Second One Check" is your go-to spot for a high-level overview of a student's academic performance and progress to date.
- The information included within the Success Progress Tab provides additional context on student's progression towards degree.
- The Class Info Tab provides information regarding a student's enrollment history, along with grades achieved and credits awarded.
- The History Tab aggregates all recorded activity for a student, including appointments, alerts, cases, reminders, notes, summary reports, and progress reports.

Introduction

Prior to training, it is important to consider:

- 1) How your institution has facilitated faculty participation and buy-in to broader student success initiatives
- 2) Your overall expectations for faculty utilization of the Navigate platform

Your progress-to-date in these areas should:

- 1) Inform your approach to training faculty end-users on the Navigate platform
- 2) Help you establish realistic and specific expectations of instructors, faculty advisors, and academic leadership

For guided exercises to help you consider these questions, as well as consider examples from across the Collaborative, see pages 4-12 of the Toolkit.

Let's Talk Strategy

Aligning to Your Training Plan to Your Student Success Goals

Questions to Consider

- How has your institution facilitated faculty participation and buy-in to broader student success initiatives? To the Navigate project?
- What is your “elevator pitch” for Navigate? Is your language faculty-friendly?
- What are your expectations for faculty utilization of the Navigate Platform?
 - How does this differ by academic units or particular faculty roles?
- What resources do faculty currently use for training or learning opportunities? Is there an opportunity to partner with these offices?
- When and where should training opportunities take place?
- What kind of documentation will you provide to faculty?
- How will you encourage my faculty to attend training, and/or hold them accountable for doing so?

How Will You Achieve Your Goals?

Example: A Phased Approach to Training

Level 1: Introduction to Navigate

- Audience: all faculty instructors, teaching/graduate assistants, and/or faculty advisors
- Content: Introducing Navigate, Professor Home Page, Learning More About Your Students
- Time/Place: Onboarding and Annual Professional Development Opportunities

Level 2: Communicating and Meeting with Students

- Audience: faculty instructors, teaching/graduate assistants, and/or faculty advisors who meet with students
- Content: Searching for, communicating with, and documenting meetings with students
- Time/Place: Monthly, Center for Excellence in Teaching & Learning

Level 3: Scheduling Meetings with Students

- Audience: faculty advisors and instructional faculty and/or graduate assistants who want to schedule meetings with students
- Content: Calendar Sync, Availability, Appointment Campaigns
- Time/Place: Prior to the term start and prior to advising week, by College

Level 4: Strategic Presentations & Workshops

- Audience: Varies based on content
- Content: Varies. Examples include developing strategic appointment campaigns, and hardwiring best practice research with Navigate
- Time/Place: Onsite or webinar sessions scheduled with Strategic Leader, up to 1x/term

Training for Academic Leadership

- Audience: Deans and Chairs
- Content: Identifying student cohorts, Navigate analytics, and assessing the impact of your student success initiatives
- Time/Place: As aligned with Department/College and student success priorities

Questions to Consider

- Which faculty users do we expect to login to the platform?
- How can Student Success Management System support their role in Student Success?
- What is the minimum shared functionality and permission-level among these users?

Introducing Navigate

Introducing EAB's Student Success Management System (SSMS)

Our Student Success Management System is an enterprise-level technology that links administrators, advisors, deans, faculty, other staff, and students in a coordinated care network designed to help schools proactively manage student success and deliver a Return on Education.

How It Works

EAB Analytics Use Machine Learning to Turn Historical Patterns into Current Insights

Unlock the power of data analytics and machine learning to bring timely student success management intelligence to administrators and leaders.

Creates a connected and coordinated network of support for every student, enabling targeted intervention and proactive, strategic care.

Provides smart guidance and intelligent information at the most pivotal moments students encounter in college, simplifying and structuring the student journey to completion.

Unlocking the power of SSC's data analytics

Institutions at advanced levels of SSC Intelligence consistently collect historical data from across the institution. Members use data to drive data-driven activity and inform intervention strategy, and review data to track progress and make improvements.

Creating a connected and coordinated support network for all students

Institutions at advanced levels of SSC Strategic Care strategically use Navigate to provide holistic care to all students. Members rely on open, explicit, and ongoing communication to serve all students and to ensure seamless coordination between all student support offices.

Providing curated guidance at the most pivotal moments in each student's journey

Institutions at advanced levels of SSC Smart Guidance empower students to succeed through individualized, student-friendly guidance in real time, and automatically notify them when they make a mistake to help them stay on the right path.

Communicating and Meeting With Students: For Faculty Instructors, Teaching/Graduate Assistants, and/or Faculty Advisors who Meet with Students

Questions to Consider

- Which faculty users meet or communicate with students (in classes, office hours, appointments, or otherwise)?
- What do these users know about their students? What do they want or need to know?
- Do you have an email or text communication policy in place? How does this apply to faculty?
- What other technologies are faculty already using to communicate with students?
- Are faculty encouraged or required to hold or publish office hours?

For one-pagers to guide your discussion, or to provide to end-users attending Level 2 Training, use pages 17-20 of the Toolkit.

How Will You Achieve Your Goals?

Example: A Phased Approach to Training

Level 3 Training

Scheduling Meetings with Students: For Faculty Advisors And Instructional Faculty and/or Graduate Assistants who Want to Schedule Meetings with Students

Setting Your Availability to Meet with Students

Use "Availability" in Navigate to allow students to see when you are available to meet for office hours and/or advising activities.

Availability can be found on the My Availability tab of the Staff Home screen. Availability allows faculty to indicate the days, times, locations, and services for which they are available to meet with students. You may choose to allow students to schedule appointments in advance via student of faculty initiated scheduling.

To begin, open the Actions menu on the My Availability tab and select Add Time. You can also run the Availability report and select New Availability from the Actions menu.

The Add Availability window will open. Select the days of week, time period, and duration of your availability.

Next, select the appropriate type of availability. Availability for "Appointments" allows students to initiate scheduling an appointment, while "Campus" availability is applicable if and when a faculty member facilitates the scheduling process with a student by sending an appointment request.

Now select your Care Unit from the drop-down. This will determine which location and services the availability will be for.

After selecting the Care Unit, select a Location. Then select which student services you can provide to students during this availability.

If any Service you select is tied to a Course, a Course menu will appear and you will need to select the Course you are available for.

Click the Save button.

Repeat this process until all of your availabilities have been defined. You can have as many availabilities as needed.

Questions to Consider

- Which faculty users already allow students to schedule meetings?
- How are faculty scheduling meetings with students (e.g. Outlook, Doodle, etc.)?
- Are there any points of integration between Navigate and the current process(es) faculty are using to schedule appointments with students?
- Do we expect faculty to leave notes or appointment summary reports after their meetings with students?

For one-pagers to guide your discussion, or to provide to end-users attending Level 3 Training, use pages 21-24 of the Toolkit.

Strategic Presentations and Workshops

Questions to Consider

- Which faculty, colleges, or departments have articulated Student Success goals?
- Which faculty, colleges, or departments use Navigate features regularly (even if cyclical).
- Which faculty, colleges, or departments are skeptical of the value of Navigate for supporting their Student Success goals?
- Are there any Deans or Chairs that are data-driven in their Student Success initiatives?
- Are there workflows, policies, or practices that should be iterated upon?
- What narrative

For examples of Strategic Presentations & Workshops that may be facilitated by your Strategic Leader, see page 25 of the Toolkit

Assessing the Impact of Your Student Success Initiatives

Analytical Tools Assess the Impact of Interventions on Defined Student Cohorts

Built to be a retrospective tool for learning about the outcomes of interventions and initiatives you have already completed, or of which you have completed a phase. Intervention Effectiveness allows you to analyze and compare the progress and performance of student cohorts over time to assess the impact of interventions within and beyond the Navigate platform.

One Population, One Time Period

Create a "watchlist" of students marked as at-risk via progress report campaigns and evaluate their persistence and GPA outcomes

15 to Finish Campaigns – determine the average credits earned and attempted by your selected population the term before the intervention, the term of the intervention, and the term afterward

Two Populations, One Time Period

Evaluate the persistence outcomes of students who were marked as at-risk; one group of whom attended a campaign appointment, and the other group who did not attend a campaign appointment

Persistence by Campaign Appointment Attendance – determine whether students who completed a campaign appointment registered for the next term at a higher rate than students sent the campaign who did not schedule an appointment

Two Populations, Two Time Periods

Evaluate the persistence outcomes to the following term of TRIO students marked as at-risk in Fall 2015 compared to TRIO students marked as at-risk in Fall 2017

Change in GPA for Freshman English Majors due to Supplemental Instruction – compare outcomes for a group of students to a historical population you believe to be comparable by examining GPA trends for two groups of students across the selected time periods
